Why choose Kerio Control over other UTM appliances?

Network Security that goes beyond the call of duty

Most UTM appliances provide basic security features out of the box, but they'll nickel and dime you for adding features you really need, and those charges will seem small in comparison with their annual renewal bill.

Not with Kerio Control. We include the industry's leading Web content filtering engine, gateway anti-virus protection, the most robust traffic reporting module around, a blazing fast VPN server, and VPN clients for Windows, Mac and Linux users. Extra charges? Zilch. And we dare the competition to compare their annual renewal rates with ours.

Keeping IT Simple

Ever tried to figure out which SonicWALL or Fortinet UTM appliance is right for your business? You've probably walked away with a pounding headache, no closer to knowing which model to choose. Why? They design enterprise UTM's and then offer watered down versions for the small and medium business. At the end of the day, they're still too complicated and expensive.

We design a complete network security solution specifically for small and medium businesses. Our competitors make your options complicated, so we make your choice simple.

Testimonial

"The ease in which Kerio Control can be installed and configured compared to SonicWall is no contest. Combine that with the features like a stable VPN connection that is included standard with Kerio Control and the annual software maintenance renewal which is a fraction of the cost of Sonicwall, and Kerio Control is an easy recommendation to our clients. They are eager to make the switch."
